

Seton Hall University
Many Are One Nomination Form
Humanitarian Award

Seton Hall University is like a mid-size city – with over 80,000 alumni, 10,000 students and 1,500 employees. However, more than 150 years after its founding, it remains true to its mission; a welcoming community, rooted in faith, steadfast in the pursuit of academic excellence.

Tied together by a common bond, Many Are One is the singular event at which all of Seton Hall comes together as one to celebrate Seton Hall. Through it, alumni, faculty, administrators, students and friends gather to share the special link that unites them all – their devotion to Seton Hall.

Each year, members of the University’s varied constituencies are selected for special recognition. These honorees are chosen because of their dedication to making Seton Hall and its communities better.

The Humanitarian Award is presented to an alumnus who embodies Seton Hall’s mission of servant leadership by making a significant positive impact on his or her community. This award recipient is expected to play a significant role in identifying potential sponsors and attendees and be personally committed to filling an appropriate number of tables.

Please note that all nominations must meet the criteria below. Thank you for your nomination.

Criteria for nomination of the “Humanitarian Award”

1. Nominee must be an alumnus of Seton Hall University
2. Nominee should be someone who is generous of their time, talents, and resources to make his or her communities better

Your Name: _____

Your Contact Number: _____

Name of Nominee: _____

Year of Graduation: _____

*Please provide a paragraph, using the guidelines above, stating why this person should be the recipient of the Many Are One “Humanitarian Award.”